The talks of our "Understanding image-based evidence" workshop held on 17th November 2009 in Oxford are now up in our documents sections.

Some photos of the event can be found in our Gallery .

And a report written by an attendee (Thank you Alejandro!) can be viewed on this page of his.

Thank you to all who participated, speakers, respondents and attendees! The feedback on the day was great. The multi-disciplinary range of the audience and of the speakers greatly contributed to making the day a successful, informative, fruitful and enjoyable research event.

We look forward to our next workshop!
